For the Union. IMPRISONMENT FOR DEBT NOT REVIVED.

The steamship Teviot arrived at Southampton, England, on the 13th of November, with advices from South America, dated at Buenos Ayres 2d, Montevideo 5th, Rio Janeiro 15th, Bahia 19th, and Pernambuco 22d of October.

Among the passengers by the Taviot was Senhor D. J. Abuquerque, a distinguished Brasilian, who is travelling in order to qualify himself for being the governor of a province, a certain course of studies and certain learned degrees being necessary to enable Brazilian subjects to fill the high political offices. The Senhor states that all the Brazilians who have recently been concerned in the slave trade have been ruined by the legal proceedings that have been taken against them, so strict are the Brazilian laws on this subject.

[Rio Janeiro (Oct. 14) correspondence of London News.] Brail is generally healthy, but there is still yellow fever among the shipping at Rio and on the Pernambuco sallway, which will probably not be finished according to silvay, which will probably not be finished according to rejectation.

Her Majesty's ship Harrier, Commander Derreman, is at Pernambuco, to enforce justice against the murderer of Mr. Gallond, who is to be brought to trial.

Active preparations continue to be made by the Brasilian government for the expected war with Paraguay, and almost all the available troops have been despatched with large supplies of ammunition and stores by the overland route to Matto Grosso. Here, in Rio, a considerable ferment has been caused by the government authorizing the culistment of soldiers from the ranks of the national guard; it is certainly an unconstitutional measure, excessively unpopular, and, if persevered in, may lead to the very worst of consequences. Should the government drive the people to rebellion it will be a thing much to be regretted, for Brasil was never more prosperous or in a state of more rapid progression than now. It is a pity that the Emperor does not take a more active part in the administration of government affairs; he is a wise and good man, but he is wanting in the energy which distinguished his father. Charitable and kind in, the highest degree in private, yet he is passive or powerless when his subjects (as in a case like the present) are oppressed.

The political aspect of affairs is gloomy at Buenos Ayres; the Indians have seized a large part of the territory.

Two passengers by the Tevoit were young gentlemen

Two passengers by the Tevoit were young gentlemen who have left Buenos Ayres in consequence of the conscription there. The sons of the richest and most respectable European residents in Buenos Ayres, if born in that country, are now liable to be drawn as soldiers not only for the militia, but also for the line. This has caused the utmost disgust among Europeans, and the British authorities have been appealed to. The English government has never seknowledged the present government of Buenos Ayres, and, according to the laws of the former government of that country, and the last recognized by England, the conscription, as far as the English residents and their children are concerned, is unconstitutional. The two passengers above mentioned, having paid a heavy price for substitutes, left the country.

General Urquiza, President of the Argentine Confederation.

General Urquiza, President of the Argentine Confedera-tion, has addressed a communication, little short of a summons, to the authorities at Buenos Ayres, calling on them to take the sense of the population respecting the obstacles to the union of that province with the confedera-tion. He particularly puts forward the aggressive atti-tude and movements of the Indians as a reason for union, and as a fact which might, under certain circumstances, call for the intervention of the power he represents, should union be delayed. The government of Buenos Ayres has replied by friendly expressions, which, however, convey a dilatory intention.

The British Packet reports gloomily of the local markets as being in a state of comparative stagnation, but reports an active movement towards the Rosario. With Paraguay hardly anything was doing. The value of gold was decreasing. No failures of any consequence were reported. Arrivals had been moderate.

The ceremonies attendant upon the removal of the remains of General Worth to the tomb prepared for them, under the monument in course of crection to his memory, at the junction of Broadway and Fifth avenue, Madison square, took place at New York on Wednesday. The military, Masonic, and civic display was most imposing, and was witnessed by thousands of persons, who congregated along the line of the procession, notwithstanding the severity of the cold. The funeral services at the monument were performed by Rev. Dr. Vinton, of Trinity church; an interesting Masonic ceremony followed, and Mayor Wood delivered an address. It was some time after dark before the ceremonies were concluded.

The Salem Register says that the pulpit of the South Church in that city was occupied on Sunday, and the entire services of the day were jointly conducted by two venerable brothers—Rev. Reuben Emerson, of South Reading, and Brown Emerson, D. D., of Salem, the former being in his 87th year, and the latter in his 80th. The twain have been settled pastors within nine miles of each other about 53 years, the aggregate of their ages being one hundred and sixty-six, and of their permanent pastorales one hundred and seven years.

James G. Birney died at Eagleswood, near Perth Amboy, New Jersey, on Tuesday evening. He was born in 1793, at Danville, Kentucky. He was widely known as the anti-slavery candidate for the presidency in 1844. His death was caused by paralysis, aggravated by heart disease.

WEEKLY MISCELLANY OF LITERATURE AND ART.

Ma. Epros: We perceive a correspondent of yours in Saturday's issue states that imprisonment for debt is revived under the new Code. Such is not the fact. After a judgment is obtained, and after a fraud has been sworn to by the judgment creditor, and after that fraud has been sworn to by the judgment creditor, and after that fraud has been proved to the satisfaction of a jury of twelve men, if No. 11.

The following letter, which we transcribe from to by the judgment creditor, and after that fraud has been sworn the judgment debtor does not deliver up the property which the jury specifically find he has fraudulently removed or concealed, he is then imprisoned for the fraud until he makes restitution, or until he is discharged under the provisions of the insolvent law.

Your correspondent is also in error in relation to which the fraud has been committed. Although it is not necessary for the creditor to specify in his affidavit that property, it is absolutely necessary that the jury, in their verdict, shall specify the particular property in relation to which the fraud has been committed. If your correspondent had looked at the law with a desire to the provisions, he would have the fraud has been committed. If your correspondent had looked at the law with a desire to the provisions, he would have the fraud has been committed. If your correspondent had looked at the law with a desire to the fraud has been committed. If your correspondent had looked at the law with a desire to the fraud has been committed. If your correspondent had looked at the law with a desire to the fraud has been committed. If your correspondent had looked at the law with a desire to the fraud has been committed. If your correspondent had looked at the law with a desire to the fraud has been committed. If your correspondent had looked at the law with a desire to the fraud has been committed. If your correspondent had looked at the law with a desire to the fraud has been committed. If your correspondent had looked at the law with a desire to the fraud has been committed. If your correspondent had looked at the law with a desire to the fraud has been committed. If your correspondent had looked at the law with a desire to the fraud has been committed. If your correspondent had looked at the law with a desire to the fraud has been committed. If your correspondent had looked at the law with a desire to the fraud has been committed. Although the fraud has been committed had looked at the law in their verdict, shall specify the particular property in relation to which the fraud has been committed. If your correspondent had looked at the law with a desire to know its provisions, he would have seen that palpably on the face of it.

Your correspondent seems also to seek to convey the impression that the debtor is arrested upon the filing of the affidavit. Such is not the fact. The question or fraud is to be first tried, like any other issue. Even after the finding of fraud by the jury, if the debtor delivers up the property which the jury find he has frautulently removed or concealed, he is not imprisoned at though it be not sufficient to discharge the judgment.

Your correspondent is again in error in stating that a claimant against the government can be imprisoned under this code. A mere claim of that kind is not subject to execution. If he will look at pages 386 and 387 of the Code he will find what personal property is subject to execution, and how. The law as there put down is, that "any debt or thing in action, legally or equitably assignable, may be levided on, when given up by the defendant," &c. A claim against the government is not subject, under the code, to execution, and here reaches property elsewhere. This is not so. Property located elsewhere is not subject to an execution upon a judgment obtained here. Your learned correspondent on the face of the provisions of the Code.

NEWS FROM SOUTH AMERICA.

QUIDNUNC, meaning literally, "What now?" is another Quinsuse, meaning literally, "what now!" is another name for newsmonger. Miss Martineau used to tell a pleasant story about one of the class, who, taking advantage of the interest excited among scientific men in relation to the Ross and Back expedition, was more than usually annoying by his fussy questions. "Sir David!" he called out at the top of his voice, one fine morning in London. Sir David Brewster, who was fine morning in London. Sir David Brewster, who was riding down the street in somewhat of a hurry, drew up his horse, and approached the speaker. "Any news from the north pole, Sir David?" "D——n the north pole!" was the angry reply of the philosopher, as he hastily pursued his way again, leaving the quidnunc transfixed with amazement. "What is the matter, Mr.——?" inquired the Rev. Sidney Smith, who came up immediately after the occurrence. The unfortunate man told his story, and dilated upon the style of the answer he had received—"so unbecoming in a man of his standing—so abrupt, not to say profane. D——n the north pole!"

You, pon: my dear sir, said ins connoter, 'you must not mind all that Sir Davidsays. He is a singular man. You would scarcely believe it, but I assure you it is only a few evenings ago that I heard him, before a large company, speak in the most disrespectful terms of the equa-

The mention of the Ross and Back expediti Arctic regions calls to mind a good thing that was said by one of the English papers on the return of Ross, in search of whom Captain Back had been sent out by the British government. "We are happy to Inform our read-ers that, although Back has not succeeded in finding Ross, Ross has got back!"

M. Burger, in his recent "Trésors d'Art Exposés à Manchester en 1857," pays the following compliment to Benjamin West:

Manchester en 1857," pays the following compliment to Benjamin West:

"Benjamin West, like Wilson, who was at least as vigorous, has passed, and still passes, in England for a great painter. He was all honors and all favors. He was royal painter and president of the Royal Academy. He enjoyed the highest esteem among the aristocracy, and a reputation in some respects natural. He has been graved by eminent engravers, and his pictures are sold at insane prices. His 'Christ Healing the Sick in the Temple,' now in the Vernon gallery, was bought by the British Institution, who offered it to the national gallery for 3,000 guineas. Can we believe, then, that after all, it the President West, who helped to develop Constable, and who gave advice to all sorts of artists, must be crased from the list of English painters? He exists not in the school; he cannot even rank with the worst dauber of the third-rate schools. I do not think that he has the smallest fragment that can be called painting."

This is a sweeping assertion, but we suspect there are few artists familiar with the pictures of West who would dissent from the Frenchman's opinion.

an English Jesuit, who was born in 1560 and executed at Tyburn in 1595, is, in compactness of thought and felici-ty of expression, hardly equalled by any similar produc-tion within our knowledge. It is a perfect mosaic of maxims, and, with very slight alteration, would bear cutting up into lines, every one of which would serve as an apothegm. We have italicised a line of rare rhythmical beauty:

The lopped tree in time may grow again;
Most naked plants renew both fruit and flower;
The sorriest wight may find release from pain;
The driest soil suck in some moistening shower;
Time goes by turns, and chances change by course
From Tool to fair, from better hap to worse.

A chance may win that by mischance was lost; That net that holds no great takes little flab; In some things all, in all things none are crossed; Few all they need, but none have all they wish. Unmingfed joys here to no man befall; Who least, hath some; who most, hath never all.

HEAVY DEPALLATION IN RICHMOND.—It has been currently reported for several days that Mr. P. P. Winston, sheriff of this city, was a defaulter to the Commonwealth to a very large amount. The Whig makes the following statement of the affair: "Desiring to relieve public anxiety on the subject, and to displace the circulation of exaggerated rumors by the presentation of facts, we made inquiries on Thursday into the affair, and ascertained from the most reliable sources that the actual amount of Mr. Winston's defalcation will not exceed $25,000. The State treasury will, for the present, however, cite him with a deficit of the entire amount of revenue assessed in the city—$116,500, less the returned list of delinquent taxes, ($6,500,) commissions, ($5,500,) and sheriff's claims against the Commonwealth, ($1,500.) These sums deducted from the assessed amount of revenue leave a balance of $103,000, for which Mr. Winston is accountable to the auditor. The amount of his bond is only $90,000; so that when the State recovers from his securities the sum for which they are responsible, a net deficit of $13,000 will still exist. Mr. Winston has executed a deed for the benefit of his securities, conveying to them all his real and personal estate, the value of which, including money deposited in the banks of this city, is estimated to be $50,000. The sum on deposite is reported to be about $50,000. The sum on deposite is reported to be about $50,000. The sum on deposite is reported to be about $50,000. THE HALL OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES (which has been fully described in our columns from time to time) swarmed yesterday morning like an ant-hill with busy workmen. The seats in the galleries and the mar-ble work of the Speaker's rostrum were completed, and there is no doubt but that the hall will be reported by the efficient architect of the Extension as "ready for use" the efficient architect of the Extension as "ready for use" when the representatives assemble. It is not probable, however, that it will be occupied at present, as many of the corridors, staircases, and committee-rooms of the "Extension" in which it is are not completed. Crowds of visitors througed the new hall yesterday, and a great variety of criticisms were made upon its decorations and the expensive furniture which is stored in the adjacent rooms until the carpet is laid.

The Weather.—Yesterday morning the ice reigned, and the shores of Rock creek echoed with the "ringing tread of the skater's heel." The market people looked very blue, and all who were early abroad buttoned up their coats and put on winter gloves—that is, if they had them. But before noon "the winter of our discontent" was "made glorious summer" by a glowing sunshine; before which the crown of frost-gems melted away, while the grim monarch retreated northward to his hyperborean throne. The ladies were out in great number, old acquaintances met again on the avenue, and everybody exclaimed, "What a delightful day!" which sentiment we unqualifiedly endorse.

upon which the world-renowned Madame Lola Montez is to becture at Carust's Saloon on Monday evening, and ahe can certainly do it justice. The editors of Philadelphia agreed in praising it when it was delivered there before a large audience, most of which were ladies. Madame Montez confines herself generally to what has come within her own observation, and is said to be sparkling and witty, displaying much graphic power in her delincation of character.

Sad Accident.—We regret to learn that on Friday evening a fine young son of Lieut. Davenport, U. S. N., was so badly burned while left alone by his nurse that he died, after having lingered in agony about two hours. Drs. Miller and Storrow were summoned, but could not alleviate the sufferings of the unfortunate child, who was between four and five years of age, and was a general favorite with the many friends of his family.

Game.—The market was supplied yesterday morning with some fine canvas-back ducks, mailards, shufflers, and widgeons, which were sold at prices ranging from $1.50 downwards.

The Poll Lists.—We notice the new poll lists posted up in each precinct for the benefit of voters. All those whose names have been omitted should give the matter.

Magnificent Grain and Stock Farm for Sale Magnificent Grain and Stock Farm for Sale

THE subscriber having fixed his residence in Washington for a few years, wishes to sell his fraidence in quot such terms, as cannot fall to be satisfactory to any one who is desirons of farming and stock-raising. The farm which I will sell, contains 860 acres of lifes quality land, lying in the county of Pike.

State of Missouri, and a little over a mile from the town of Bowling Green, the county seal of Fike. There are about seven hundred acres of rich and gently rolling prairie, the balance in timber. Upwards of four hundred acres are in a fine state of celligation, one hundred acres in meadow; sixty acres in wheat; ten acres in orchard of the best selected fruit, now bearing finely, and enclosed by an Osage orange hedge. It is the best watered farm in the neighborhood. Hesides naver-falling ponds of stock water, there is a small creek running through the tract, subreling an inexhaustible supply of water at all seasons of the year. The farm is tweet miles from the flourishing and rapidly-growing city of Louishins, our market town on the Missis sippi river, with a plank road complete to Bowling Green, by which we can take a load of produce in wagons to Louishina, and return the same day.

The buildings are a cottage dwelling house in good repair, containspip river, was a load of produce in wagous to Loxissana, and return the same day.

The buildings are a cottage dwelling house in good repair, containing eight rooms: also kitchen, pantry, sinoke-house, negro houses, stables, corn-cribs, ice-house, and other outhcases. Besides the stock water, there is a never-failing apring within two hundred yards of the house, two cisterns, one of which is thirty feet deep, and ten feet in diameter, arched over at top with brick, and plastered inside with hydradic cement, and otherwise funds. In the completes namer. There is not a more houlthful farm in the State of Missouris nor is there, in general estimation, a more beautiful and valuable one—according to its size—in the county. I wish to sell it, simply because whilst engaged in my present enterprise, as the editor and proprietor of the Wasunxorov Ustox, I cannot conveniently manage and carry it on to proper advantage.

The terms will be made very accommodating. By paying one-third in cash, the purchaser can have four years, to pay the balance in, by paying interest and securing the deferred payments in the usual manner.

Any inquiry addressed to the subscriber, Washington city, or in my manner.

Any inquiry addressed to the subscriber, Washington cny, or to my con Blackford Harris, or Samuel F. Murray, esq., Bowling Green, Pike county, Mo., will be promptly attended to.
